Eliminate Viruses and Spam

At Global Relay, we recognize that email has become an indispensable tool of communication for today's businesses. Unfortunately, there are increasing numbers of individuals and organizations that wish to disrupt this mode of communication or exploit it for their own gains. These disruptions or exploitations come in the form of spam, viruses, worms, and phishing scams that are sophisticated in delivery and purpose. They are responsible for countless acts of identity theft, industrial espionage, and denial of services, which cause major losses to businesses. We also recognize that eliminating these threats is not a trivial matter; therefore, in addition to using one of the best anti-virus technologies, we have enlisted the expertise of Cloudmark, with their Cloudmark Authority® for SpamAssassin™, to provide a real-time response and block or neutralize these threats.

Most spam detection software programs do not work because spammers receive the same anti-spam engine upgrades, and simply develop new techniques to circumvent them within minutes of their release. These software programs, in effect, engage in an un-winnable battle against spammers.

With Cloudmark Authority for SpamAssassin, Global Relay accomplishes spam detection through a combination of Advanced Message Fingerprinting™ and the world's largest threat detection network, the Global Threat Network. These components, together with automated analytical processes, drive the system's unsurpassed 98 percent spam filtering accuracy with near zero false positives.

Global Relay's Spam Management is powered by multi-level gateway filters including intelligent Bayesian filtering technology. Global Relay's Email Filtering learns and adapts to spammers in real-time by comparing known "good email" with known "spam." Although individual reporting is not required, with user assistance, spam identification can be optimized on a global basis.
